review a key convention in the publication of research is the peer review process in which the quality and potential contribution of each manuscript is evaluated by one's peers in the scientific community like other scientific journals. APA journals utilize a peer review process to guide manuscript selection and publication decisions.

General APA Guidelines: Your essay should be typed and double spaced on standard sized paper (8.5 x 11) with 1 inch margins on all sides. Include a page header also known as the running head at the top of every page. For a professional paper, this includes your paper title and the page number.

Cover Page or Title Page: In APA style 7th edition, the cover page or title page should include a running head (professional papers only) and page number. The title of the paper, the name of the author(s), the institutional affiliation, an author note (optional, professional papers only), and a student paper should also include course information.

Citations: Two citations are used to cite a source: a short citation used in the text called the in-text citation, and a full citation called the reference in the reference list at the end of a paper. The in-text citation is a short citation that is placed next to the text being cited. The in-text citation lets the reader know that the web (5 nov 2020) click here for apa 6th edition guidelines.

Website Citations: Usually include the author, the publication date, the title of the page or article, the website name, and the URL. If there is no author, start the citation with the title of the article. If the page is likely to change over time, add a retrieval date.

Other Styles: APA style 7th edition, MLA style, Chicago style, IEEE style, AMA style, ASA style, APA style 6th edition.

Resources: Avoiding plagiarism, teacher/tutor resources, overview writing, instructors writing, letters of recommendation for students, writing tutors, teaching resources, preventing plagiarism, translingual writing, writing in the engineering web, and when searching the literature yourself. You also save time and effort when reading reference lists in the works of others that are written in APA style. References are covered in chapters 9 and 10 of the APA publication manual, seventh edition, last updated November 2022. Date created: September 2019.

Cite This Web: APA style is widely used, either entirely or with modifications, by hundreds of other scientific journals, including medical and other public health journals, in many textbooks, and in academia for papers written in classes. The current edition is its seventh revision.

Sample Papers: This page contains sample papers formatted in seventh edition APA style. The sample papers show the format that authors should use to submit a manuscript for publication in a professional journal and that students should use to submit a paper to an instructor for a course assignment. You can download the word files to use as web (9 feb 2023).

Both MLA and APA: Use running heads with the page number at the top of each page. Both formats prefer 8½ by 11 inch paper with 1 inch margins on all sides, disregarding the running head. Both recommend simple fonts like 10 to 12 point Times New Roman and Arial.
