Extra Credit Feb 15 2020 Extra Credit is a 128,000 word reverse harem standalone, featuring Violet from the Lonely Souls trilogy. Though you do not have to read the trilogy first, please note that Extra Credit occurs after the events in that story and contains spoilers for most of its major plot points. GildedGirl This year at Harbor University should have been a fresh start. My chance to finally get a taste of the independence I've craved for so long. But one risky choice has caused me to lose everything I've been working toward. Freedom is no longer within my grasp, and it feels like all hope is lost. My one saving grace? BioGuy. I've never met the student I'm tutoring through the Extra Credit program, but that hasn't stopped him from owning my thoughts and preserving my sanity. BioGuy We didn't mean any harm. We were just trying to pass our philosophy class and save a little money by sharing a tutor. But, now that we've gotten to know GildedGirl, it doesn't feel right to continue deceiving her. How do we confess that it's all been a lie? That the person she thinks she knows isn't one guy...but three?

Futanari Sex Ed 3 - Extra Credit Apr 18 2020 It's early evening, and futanari teens Zara and Amber are desperate to finish their latest PE assignment: trying out five different condom brands...on each other! But they'd better be quiet, or else the uptight librarian Miss Fielding might just catch them in the act. Meanwhile, their friend Leslie is face-to-face with a roller derby team of dejected, horny futanari who can't seem to get their heads in the game. The schoolgirl knows one way to motivate them: promise a big celebration afterwards in the locker room, where she's the entertainment! FUTANARI SEX ED 3: EXTRA CREDIT is over 17,000 words of hot threesomes and gangbangs between horny futanari and their naughty female partners. ~~~~~ PG Excerpt ~~~~~

?Is she one of your students?? a teammate near the back asked.

?Does Melissa give you a hard time in class?? she asked mischievously, the meaning behind her question not lost on Leslie.

?Hall, I appreciate the support, but you need to leave. You don't belong here.? ?Yes, I do!? she insisted. ?You guys need all the encouragement you can get. You're dying out there. I'm here to tell you-? ?To tell us what?? Psycho Cin asked, cynicism permeating from every word. She glared at the teen with hard, silver eyes. The sides of her head were shaved and her hair styled up in a shiny, red-tipped mohawk. ?To try harder? To believe in ourselves?? She threw her towel on the floor. "They're laughing at us out there. This team is a joke. We are a joke." This set off a wave of arguments. The fifteen teammates hurled insults at one another, and some even started throwing kneepads and helmets. The tension had clearly reached the tipping point, and in the middle of it all was little Leslie Hall. Leslie couldn't bear the thought of the Roughnecks skating out to the track and being laughed at like in the first half of the game. "Roughnecks!" she yelled, surprising herself as her voice cut above all the bickering. "There's no point fighting like this. The Assassins have been whipping your butts for half an hour straight, but you still have the second half to turn this around," she insisted, trying to meet each one in the eye. "You guys can do so much better! Look at how big and strong you all are; that's why you're called the Roughnecks! All you have to do is give it all you've got, and I know you can come out on top and beat those Assassins!" "Oh, you do?" one of them asked. "Aren't we lucky, girls, to have the support of this random teenager?" "What makes you think we're going to turn this around?" another woman asked. "Do you think your little high school pep talk is what we need?" This gave her pause. Leslie had an idea about what she wanted to say next, but hesitated. Every eye was on her, waiting. Leslie looked at Ms. Hawke, who gave her an encouraging nod. It was then that she realized what she was here for. She knew how to pass this assignment, and with flying colors. All she had to do was get this team to win. "If..." she began, feeling herself grow excited at the idea. "If you guys win, I'll be here to celebrate with you. Your number one fan, right here in the middle of the locker room, helping every single one of you celebrate your victory." The teen made sure she met each woman's eyes, holding it there until the message was loud and clear. What am I doing? This is crazy. There's fifteen of them, and only one of me! Once it clicked, every skater's eyes widened. Every last angry or dejected expression changed to one of excitement. Old foes started sharing smiles. Some bit their lips with anticipation. "So?" Leslie asked. "Are you guys in?" They all nodded. "We'll go hard," Ms. Hawke said, her eyes glimmering with excitement. "If you promise the same after we win."

The Understatement of the Year Mar 18 2020 What happened in high school stayed in high school. Until now. Five years ago, Michael Graham betrayed the only person who ever really knew him. Since then, he's made an art of hiding his sexual preference from everyone. Including himself. So it's a shock when his past strolls right into the Harkness College locker room, sporting a bag of hockey gear and the same slow smile that had always rendered Graham defenseless. For Graham, there is only one possible reaction: total, debilitating panic. With one loose word, the team's new left wing could destroy Graham's life as he knows it. John Rikker is stuck being the new guy. Again. And it's worse than usual, because the media has latched onto the story of the only "out" player in Division One hockey. As the satellite trucks line the sidewalk outside the rink, his new teammates are not amused. And one player in particular looks sick every time he enters the room. Rikker didn't exactly expect a warm welcome from Graham. But the guy won't even meet his eyes. From the looks of it, his former... best friend / boyfriend / whatever isn't doing so well. He drinks too much and can't focus during practice. Either the two loneliest guys on the team will self destruct from all the new pressures in their lives, or they can navigate the pain to find a way back to one another. To say that it won't be easy is the Understatement of the Year. Warning: unlike the other books in this series, this heartbreaking love story is about two guys. Contains sexual situations, dance music, snarky t-shirts and a poker-playing grandmother. Sarina Bowen's Ivy Years is my favorite New Adult series of all-time! -- Elle Kennedy, New York Times bestselling author of The Deal "It's so well done that I just want to read it over and over again." - Mandi Schreiner of Smexy Books "Sarina Bowen serves up yet another gut-wrenching story that left me limp at the end with relief that these two found their happily ever after." - Amy bestselling author Meghan Quinn, an American searching for her purpose escapes to a Scottish town but finds more questions than answers when she meets a brooding yet handsome handyman. Freshly fired from her third job in a row, Bonnie St. James has lost her way. So when she and her best friend stumble upon a "help wanted" post to run a coffee shop in the Scottish Highlands, they apply on a whim. Who knows? Maybe traveling to a new place is just what she needs to figure out her next move. When the friends arrive in the tiny idyllic town of Corsekelly, they instantly fall for the gorgeous Highland landscape and friendly townspeople. But Bonnie finds a less-than-warm welcome in Rowan MacGregor, the rugged local handyman. Busy wrestling his own demons, Rowan's in no mood to deal with the quirky American--even if she is a bonny lass. As Bonnie and Rowan's paths inevitably cross, insults--and sparks--fly. Can the pair build on their similarities to help each other find purpose and direction...and maybe romance too? Or will their passionate tempers fling them apart?

Extra Credit Feb 21 2023 It isn't that Abby Carson can't do her schoolwork. She just doesn't like doing it. And in February a warning letter arrives at her home. Abby will have to repeat sixth grade—unless she meets some specific conditions, including taking on an extra-credit project to find a pen pal in a distant country. Seems simple enough. But when Abby's first letter arrives at a small school in Afghanistan, the village elders agree that any letters going back to America must be written well. In English. And the only qualified student is a boy, Sadeed Bayat. Except in this village, it is not proper for a boy to correspond with a girl. So Sadeed's younger sister will write the letters. Except she knows hardly any English. So Sadeed must write the letters. For his sister to sign. But what about the villagers who believe that girls should not be anywhere near a school? And what about those who believe that any contact with Americans is . . . unhealthy? Not so simple. But as letters flow back and forth—between the prairies of Illinois and the mountains of central Asia, across cultural and religious divides, through the minefields of different lifestyles and traditions—a small group of children begin to speak and listen to one another. And in just a few short weeks, they make important discoveries about their communities, about their world, and most of all, about themselves.

Extra Credit Jun 13 2022 It wasn't my fault. Zack Tupelo, the chiseled blond stripper, kept smiling at me during the bachelorette party. Giving me sultry looks while gyrating his flawless body in front of everyone. I never would've gone home with him if I knew the truth: He's a student in my History 414 class. I'm his Professor. Now we have to spend the fall semester pretending it didn't happen. But neither of us can forget the sweaty, scintillating night of passion we shared. Making matters worse is Finn, Zack's dark-haired stripper partner. He's covered with delicious tattoos and has a quiet intensity in his gaze. A gaze which he soon turns on me in the bedroom. Then there's Professor Dominic Karlson, my colleague in the history department. A former football star, he fills out every inch of his dress shirt with bulging muscle. He's the fantasy of every woman at the university... ..yet out of everyone there, he asks out me. I'm juggling men the way I normally juggle classwork. Grading papers while grading the handsome men in my life. Will I be able to choose between them? Or will my forbidden affairs be discovered? EXTRA CREDIT is a sizzling reverse harem love story filled with humor, suspense, and college-related fun. HEA guaranteed!

Blonde Date* Jun 20 2020 Enjoy a FREE taste of the Ivy Years Series! A blind date. A nervous sorority girl. A mean-spirited fraternity prank. What could go wrong? As a sorority pledge, there are commandments that Katie Vickery must live by. One: thou shalt not show up for the party without a date. Two: the guy shall be an athlete, preferably an upperclassman. Unfortunately, Katie just broke up with her jerkface football player boyfriend. Even worse, her last encounter with him resulted in utter humiliation. She'd rather hide under the bed than attend a party where he'll be. Yet staying home would mean letting him win. Enjoying herself tonight was out of the question. She could only hope to get through the evening without her blind date noticing that he was spending the evening with a crazy person. Andrew Baschnagel is living proof that nice guys don't finish first. He's had his eye on Katie since the moment her long legs waltzed into his art history class. So when her roommate sets Andy up to be Katie's date, he'd be crazy to say no.

Unfortunately, he doesn't have a lot of practice with either girls or parties. Yet.
