The "Point Game" is a methodology, an incentive-based program for teaching children to "self-police." It changed my daily classroom experience from disruptive and chaotic to remarkably productive and fulfilling. I have written this book to share my experiences in the hopes that it will also enhance your classroom experience. I explain why and how the objectives were formed and show you how the same principles of the game can be employed in any classroom. The Point Game has the flexibility to cater to the needs of your individual students, and to improve your Classroom Management and teaching proficiency. Take heart. There is an alternative to the madness, and I am delighted to share the system I discovered and developed with all of you. The Point Game has produced stellar results for me, and I know it will work for you. Bloomsbury CPD Library: Raising Attainment in the Primary Classroom is a complete guide for primary teachers to assess, plan and excel in raising the attainment of every child. Children begin school with considerable differences in their literacy and maths skills. For some children, this gap widens as they go through school and may never close, leaving them without the basic levels required to succeed at secondary school. Experts Sonia Blandford and Catherine Knowles set out to help you understand the theory underpinning aspiration, access and achievement, and what you can do to close the achievement gap in your school. Bloomsbury CPD Library: Raising Attainment in the Primary Classroom specifically focuses on increasing access and raising aspirations of pupils as a means to improving attainment. The whole philosophy behind students learning a Modern Foreign Language is based around the following techniques which aim to provide learning and engagement: Word Recognition & Key Vocabulary, Paragraph-Building. Jake Hunton includes Vocab Fun-Learning Activities (VFLAs) - suggested teaching & learning strategies based on how to engage students in learning vocabulary. They are all in-class strategies that directly impact on students' engagement & their recall & recognition of vocabulary in the modern foreign language. A number of these strategies are based around students having access to the vocabulary in the lesson and encouraged to learn (through recognition and recall) any vocabulary that the teacher chooses. A key issue with these strategies is that students struggle or are disengaged from the outset at having to learn lists of vocabulary. Using these strategies students' learning of vocabulary is made active in the lesson by the teacher.
