Where the Moose Slept Oct 25 2020 The setting is deep in a field of wildflowers, far from any city. It is during the Alaska oil boom, and two anachronistic romantics have heeded the call of the wild. Kate has come from Hawaii, 'to see a winter.' Inspired by the cultural revolution of the sixties, she dreams of a Utopia. Tim, a soldier returning from Vietnam, simply wants to build a log home and live life the way he wishes. They elope. Their epic wilderness experiment takes Emerson's vision of Transcendentalism through self-reliance, and puts meat on it, while the outcome of this odyssey calls to mind the reports of "seeing the elephant" by many who traveled west by covered wagon in the mid-19th century. This is Historical Fiction. Photographs and letters written from the pioneer wife to her mother detailing the adventurous newlyweds' pre-technological lifestyle were treasured, and eventually handed down to Atwood Cutting by her grandmother. The nonfiction narrative is likely to evoke disbelief in young adults and fond memories in seniors, while nature lovers and DIY souls will lap up the innovative transportation and construction solutions described. If the wilderness calls your name, and you dream of running toward its perfection but can't clear your schedule, then you are the right reader for this trilogy about pioneering before there were cellphones.

Between the Stops Mar 30 2021 'Part confession, part call to arms and wholly entertaining' OBSERVER 'Her writing style is as kooky and digestible as Bill Bryson's . . . A fun-filled, fact-packed, memorable ride' SUNDAY TIMES 'Full of wit and wisdom' RADIO TIMES Between the Stops is a sort of a memoir, my sort. It's about a bus trip really, because it's my view from the Number 12 bus. From a brief history of lady gangsters at Elephant and Castle to anecdotes about boarding school, this is the long-awaited memoir from one of Britain's best-loved characters. Presenter of QI, former host of The Great British Bake Off, writer, broadcaster, activist and comic on stage, screen and radio for nearly forty years: this is an autobiography with a difference - as only Sandi Toksvig can tell it. A funny and moving trip through memories, musings and the many delights on the number 12 route, Between the Stops is also an inspiration to us all to get off our phones, look up and talk to each other because as Sandi says: 'some of the greatest trips lie on our own doorstep'.

London Calling Sep 04 2021 —Jack Liddle—Positive Knick and Knack Jan 28 2021 Knick and Knack are brothers who were born into an uppermiddle-class family during the first half of the 1950s. Their lives were dominated with television, comic books, and mysterious new media accounts that take the brothers into the realm of mind-altering synthetic substances along with the electric hard-rock music and the Vietnam War. This comic tragedy continues on and concludes in the wilds of Baja, California. Jack Liddle represents the irrepressible optimist. His positive mental demeanor, which he inherited from his father, is the focal point of his life. No matter what depths of despair he finds himself, he manages to return to where he resonates best: positive thinking. As the story progresses, Jack technically upgrades himself, which allows him to move forward, whereas most people his age become tranquil as they relive their past. With the advent of the Internet, Jack attracts an audience who follows his adventures and, ultimately, a grand misadventure.

Swimming in Stone Jan 16
2020 When David Attenborough filmed his ground-breaking series Life on Earth in 1978, he chose one place in the world to demonstrate the early evolution of fishes: Gogo. Gogo, in the wild Kimberly district of Western Australia, is one of the world's most significant fossil sites because it shows 375 million-year old fishes preserved in stunning three-dimensional preservation. These fossils provide a rare window into the anatomy of primitive fishes at the critical stage when fishes were starting to evolve into the first land animals the line ultimately leading to humans. Yet, despite being such an important fossil site, it has had a mysterious and checkered history of discovery. Written by paleontologist John Long, who has spent over 20 years searching and working the Gogo sites, Swimming in Stone tells the amazing stories of the people who discovered the fossils, the development of the chemical preparation methods that freed the old bones from their rocky tombs, and how the flood of new da
