Excerpt from A Complete Manual of Canon Law, Vol. 1: The Sacraments The author has made it a first principle to avoid everything of a controversial character. As a rule the spiritual instincts of all who have realised the claims which Christianity make upon them, when not subordinated to temporal considerations, are more generous than their definitions; and the general effect of controversy is to strengthen indeed the controversialist in his opinion, but to strengthen also those who differ from him in theirs. Where differences among authorities point to a difference of rule or practice. An endeavour has been made to trace historically the origin and growth of the difference. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Excerpt from A Complete Manual of Canon Law, Vol. 1 IN the hope that these Short Manuals may contribute in some small degree to help forward that unity for which Christ prayed, by diminishing the prejudice, misunderstanding, and ignorance which is so largely responsible for the present divided state of Christendom, the present volume containing the first series is offered to the public. We have it on the authority of Christ Himself that He came into the world to be at once the Way, the Truth, and the Life, and that He left it to His Church to carry on the work which He began. It is, therefore, and must ever be the office of the Church to hold Him up to the end of time as the Way, the Truth, and the Life. In order to manifest Christ as the Way to God, the Church is called upon to be itself the commonwealth of righteousness, the light of the world, the reflection of Him who is the true Light. Printed in black & white (not color). 156 pages. Size 8"x10." Excerpt from A Complete Manual of Canon Law, Vol. 2 On the 20th day of June 1894 the most blessed Bishop of old Rome, Leo XIII., addressed an encyclical letter to the rulers and nations of the world, in which, "drawn," as he informs them, "to follow the example of our Redeemer and Master Jesus Christ, Who, when about to return to heaven, implored of God, His Father, in earnest prayer, that His disciples and followers should be of one mind and of one heart," and breathing the Spirit of his divine Master, he most earnestly invited them to unity. He then laid it down that the true union between Christians "consists in [1] a unity of faith, and [2] a unity of government," adding further [3] that this union can no otherwise be brought about than by acknowledging "the primacy of the Roman pontiff," and appealed to the oldest traditions to verify this statement.
