The Hunter and The Cardinal Nov 15 2021 What is true friendship? What decisions do each of us make that cause friendship to grow, or to wither and die? This is the story of one man in search of answers and the risks he takes to find them. Will he lose the joy that only a bond with nature can bring? Will the cardinal lose her life to bring him the answer? Search these pages for answers to these questions and to witness the wonderful glimpse into the world of nature. Even though everyone describes this as a children's book, this story was born of a friendship between two adults who find that time and life puts them on a road in which they can no longer enjoy each other again, perhaps for the rest of their lives. It is my hope that, in these pages, adults as well as children can find answers to the true meaning of friendship and the gentle joys it brings to all that are willing to embrace it rightly.

They've grown up listening to the nighttime songs of hounds in the pursuit of the wily ringtail. Chasing raccoon through darkened hills, Jacob teaches his sons the legends of their hometown and a deep respect for all woodland creatures. Hunting and the lessons taught keep the Ernst family together. And the brothers bond with their dogs-loyal to one another until the end. For this is Painted Post-a storied place where the lessons of life, love, and death play out beneath its mighty oaks. But worlds collide. Evil follows the Ernst family and their hounds into these mystical hills. The scourge of the illegal drug trade, coupled with the treachery of one of their own, leads to an inevitable showdown. Some will learn that not all of Painted Post's vivid tales are pure legend, and this rugged woodland will wield its own brutal justice. For in the darkest hollows, solid bonds are forged.

Desperately Seeking Solutions Feb 16 2022 Following the Governments health reforms in 1991 rationing has been put firmly on the agenda. This book identifies and clarifies the numerous political and ethical issues surrounding rationing in healthcare. Drawing upon international examples it offers a critical overview of the approaches to rationing and makes practical proposals for its management. Desperately Seeking Solutions challenges the assumption that all health services are inherently subject to rationing as demand invariably outstrips supply and examines this within a comparative framework. The author critically evaluates the extent to which rationing has always existed and should exist within the NHS, although until recently it operated on an implicit rather than explicit basis and was bound up with clinical judgements rather than purely financial considerations. The author questions whether calls for explicit rationing are actually desirable and potentially feasible.
