SuperMutant Magic Academy Dec 06 2020 Unrequited love, underage drinking, and teen angst rule at a high school for mutants and witches The New York Times and New Yorker illustrator Jillian Tamaki is best known for co-creating the award-winning young adult graphic novels Skim and This One Summer—moody and atmospheric bestsellers. SuperMutant Magic Academy, which she has been serializing online for the past four years, paints a teenaged world filled with just as much ennui and uncertainty, but also with a sharp dose of humor and irreverence. Tamaki deftly plays superhero and high-school Hollywood tropes against what adolescence is really like: The SuperMutant Magic Academy is a prep school for mutants and witches, but their paranormal abilities take a backseat to everyday teen concerns. Science experiments go awry, bake sales are upstaged, and the new kid at school is a cat who will determine the course of human destiny. In one strip, lizard-headed Trixie frets about her nonexistent modeling career; in another, the immortal Everlasting Boy tries to escape this mortal coil to no avail. Throughout it all, closeted Marsha obsesses about her unrequited crush, the cat-eared Wendy. Whether the magic is mundane or miraculous, Tamaki's jokes are precise and devastating. SuperMutant Magic Academy has won two Ignatz Awards. This volume combines the most popular content from the webcomic with a selection of all-new, never-before-seen strips that conclude Tamaki's account of life at the academy.

The Exchange Mar 28 2020 When my parents told me that I'd be spending three weeks at a London prep school on a student exchange my junior year, I was furious. I love New York. My school. My friends. And I didn't want to leave. But after some not-so-subtle insistence about experiencing a new culture, gaining worldly knowledge, and the fact that it was only three weeks, I knew I wasn't getting out of it. So, I decided that if I had to go, I might as well have some fun. Which was how I met Harry at a pub. His blue eyes, adorable accent, and charm instantly won me over—right after his lips did. And I started to think that London might not be so bad. But then I met Noah. He's tall, dark, intense, and spends way too much time in the shower. I know this because I have to live with him. And did I mention that he hates me? My first day at school is more eventful than I anticipated. A boy named Mohammad takes me under his wing, declares himself my guide to the "hostile and hormonal battlefield that is Kensington School," and lays three facts on me: He, Harry, and Noah are best mates. I'm the new girl and bound to cause drama. And I've already got his boys all twisted up. I'm in way over my head, and it's only my first day!

I think I'm finding my place among these depraved monsters. Except there's one small problem. They're not the only men who want me. There are far more dangerous men looking for the heir to the Wellington fortune? which means I'll be staying in their beds and under their protection for the foreseeable future.

He has dreamy blue eyes and blonde hair that always looks perfect, even when it's windblown or been stuck under a football helmet. He's the boy every girl crushes on. The boy I get into trouble with, the boy I fight with, the hot quarterback no girl can resist, not even me. Being with Danny is like being on an adventure. He has a bright, contagious smile and abs to die for. He's pretty much irresistible. Equally crush worthy is Phillip. Adorable, sweet Phillip, who I have known since birth. The boy who rescues me, the boy who can read my mind, the boy who is always there for me, the boy who tries to keep me out of trouble, the boy who irritatingly keeps getting hotter, and whose strong arms always seem to find their way around me. And when he gives me that grin, I can never say no. One boy will give me my very first kiss. One boy will teach me to make out. One boy will take me to prom. And finally, one boy will ask me to marry him. They will both be my best friends. But only one of them will be the boy I fall in love with. Only one of them is that boy. Girl off the Grid Apr 09 2021

Mistress Nov 24 2019 Imagine a world in which the gentle hero becomes a damsel very much in distress, within a domain charged with excitement, danger and intrigue. Enter this creation from noted author, Jillian Allen in the epic novel, MISTRESS. If Shades of Gray is titillation for teens, MISTRESS is wonderment for adults. Spanning two books and over 225,000 words, MISTRESS is not intended for those seeking a quick thrill. Rather, it is an enthralling but measured journey into a world most readers have not imagined. Follow the voyage of young Victor Harris who slowly wends from his darkest suicidal days into a new universe of passion and love. But, that is his challenge, to discern between complete submission and self-fulfillment. What is love, and what is fantasy? Is there a difference between pain and pleasure? What impenetrable secrets surround Helena, head of the powerful Palmsdale companies? What dark power is held by the enigmatic Intruder? Can Victor possibly choose between the energy of Helena and the allure of Anne. It soon becomes clear who will end up wearing panties, what is not apparent until the exciting climax, is who will wear the pants. MISTRESS is an erotic romance intended for mature readers of both genders. Love is the major theme, power is secondary. It deals with intimate relationships including domination and submission. It delves deeply into gender and the potency of clothing in society. Several fetishes are explored, while girdles, bondage, discipline, and internal irrigation play major roles.

Twerp Apr 29 2020 It's not like I meant for Danley to get hurt. . . . Julian Twerski isn't a bully. He's just made a big mistake. So when he returns to school after a weeklong suspension, his English teacher offers him a deal: if he keeps a journal and writes about the incident that got him and his friends suspended, he can get out of writing a report on Shakespeare. Julian jumps at the chance. And so begins his account of life in sixth grade--blowing up homemade fireworks, writing a love letter for his best friend (with disastrous results), and worrying whether he's still the fastest kid in school. Lurking in the background, though, is the one story he can't bring himself to tell, the one story his teacher most wants to hear. Inspired by Mark Goldblatt's own childhood growing up in 1960s Queens, Twerp shines with powerful writing that will have readers laughing and crying right along with these flawed but unforgettable characters.
